

रुद्र धाम

Rudra Dhaam

WHO WE ARE

A Hindu foundation in The Hague, founded in 2024. We share the teachings of the Vedas, the Upanishads, the Puranas, the Bhagavad Gita and the Ramayana with anyone who wants to learn: families who grew up with these texts and people meeting them for the first time. Everyone is welcome, whatever their background, gender, caste, sexuality or faith.

WHAT WE DO

१

Sunday lectures

Talks on the sacred texts, from the Ramayana to the Upanishads, held mostly on Sundays and open to all.

२

Study & teaching

Hindi lessons, classes in the scriptures, and training for pandits (priests) who will carry the tradition forward.

३

Festivals & dialogue

Celebrating the Hindu festivals together, and hosting lectures and symposia with other faith communities.

THE QUESTION WE RESPOND TO

Depth, and an open door

Many people carry the Hindu tradition with them but have few places to study it in depth, in a way that fits life in the Netherlands. A city as diverse as The Hague also needs places where faiths meet. We try to offer both.

LIVING DHARMA IN OUR WORK

From verse to daily life

Dharma is not only something to read about. It shows in how you speak to your family, how you treat a stranger, what you do when someone needs help. So every talk returns to one question: what does this verse ask of me this week?

TOWARDS WORLD CITIZENSHIP

Acting for the whole

The Gita speaks of lokasangraha: acting for the good of the whole world. For us that means teaching without distinction, seeking conversation with other religions, and working with other organisations to help people in need.

ONE MESSAGE TO TAKE AWAY

वसुधैव कुटुम्बकम्

Vasudhaiva kutumbakam · from the Maha Upanishad

The whole world is one family.
Living dharma means acting like it, one ordinary day at a time.
